Danone's Sustainability Principles apply to Own Operations as well as Business Partners

When updating its Sustainability Principles in May 2018, Danone decided to rename them *Danone's Sustainability Principles for Business Partners*¹ to insist on their applicability to all Danone Business Partners.

However, the Sustainability Principles have been first developed for Danone's Own Operations, starting in 2001, and continue to apply to all Danone's Operations and Business Units worldwide. They constitute the core Danone internal referential in terms of sustainability.
