

Van Oord provided the following statement:

As a consequence of our role as international contractor Van Oord's preparation and execution of projects always take place in the context of national, regional and local legislation. In addition Van Oord's internal procedure is in accordance with this legislation and Van Oord's own management procedures and CSR-policy.

Furthermore Van Oord is currently in the process of developing its supply chain responsibility regarding a.o. labor conditions and health and safety. This is also in line with agreements which Dutch international contractors are making with our ministry of foreign affairs based on international standards on labor conditions.
