

FIFA statement to BHRRC on allegations by workers against the company Meinhardt BIM Studios LLC – 12 July 2021

FIFA has taken note of allegations by Meinhardt BIM Studios LLC (MBS) workers regarding abusive labour practices of their company in Qatar. FIFA firmly condemns any of the practices described by workers in their report.

The report states that some workers of MBS had previously been employed on FIFA World Cup sites and we have engaged with our local counterparts, the Supreme Committee for Delivery & Legacy, to better understand the involvement of MBS in FIFA World Cup-related projects.

In that respect, we can confirm that up to five white-collar workers from MBS were hired as freelancers to provide services for a FIFA World Cup project. They completed their work in April 2020 and we have been informed that all dues of workers for that project have been settled.
