Shell's response

October 25, 2021

"We look forward to working with the U.S. House Committee on Oversight and Reform to address their questions. Shell strongly supports the Paris Agreement and the need for society to transition to a lower carbon future, while extending the economic and social benefits of energy access to everyone. We invite you to read our full written testimony, which will be available on the day of the hearing, at www.shell.us."
