

“Moschino’s Response”, 5 July 2022

Moschino carries out its entrepreneur activities in full accordance with the human rights and with the full respect of the principles of the United Nations Universal Declaration, the International Labour Organization Conventions, the OECD Guidelines and the Charter of Fundamental Rights.

Moschino, as company belonging to Aeffe Group, is also required to observe the principles set out in the Code of Ethics of AEFPE S.p.A.- Moschino's parent company (<https://aeffe.com/organization-management-and-control-model/>),

In addition, within the scope of its various licensing relationships, Moschino requires to its licensees to respect the human rights and to comply with the indications and with the rules contained in the above-mentioned Code and Precepts.