

“Benetton Group’s response”, 26 September 2022

Benetton Group is still in the process of investigating, in the meantime a reminder will be addressed to all our suppliers informing that Benetton supports the importance of ILO principle stating that the right of workers and employers to establish their independent organizations is the basic prerequisite for collective bargaining and social dialogue.