

11/11/2022

CPC is a key export route for crude oil production from Kazakhstan to reach international markets and many countries rely on this critical transportation system for their energy security. Given current supply concerns, access to Kazakh energy supplies remains very important for consumers around the world.

Chevron's response to the Ukraine and Russia human rights due diligence survey can be found here:
Chevron response - Business & Human Rights Resource Centre \(business-humanrights.org\)