

“Michael Kors’ response”, 11 October 2023

Michael Kors is committed to principles of ethical business practice and recognition of the dignity of others, including responsible labor practices throughout our value chain. Respecting fundamental human rights is core to our Code of Conduct for Business Partners, which we require all supply chain partners to abide by. We take the allegations of labor and human rights abuses of garment workers that BHRRC has raised seriously. After receipt of the allegations by BHRRC, we promptly began an investigation into these claims, including by engaging in direct dialogue with the named factory. Should our investigation substantiate any of the claims, we commit to taking appropriate remedial action.
