

“Regatta’s response”, 18 January 2024

Lat War Garments

We work closely with SMART Myanmar, and they took the time to investigate this factory allegations on our behalf. Please see below their findings:

They sent a team of 4 staff to interview workers and managers and review many documents, policies, etc.

They found

- No evidence Regatta ... was produced at this factory in recent months or years. Their current buyers are LPP (Sinsay brand) and mostly otherwise some Japanese brands.
- The factory was very transparent and open.

Myanmar Morning Flower Garment

Since our last investigation we have found out that a portion of one style was made in this factory, but this has now ceased going forward, so we are not able to investigate any further as we will have no dealings with the factory.
