

“Nike’s response”, 22 April 2024

Nike is deeply committed to responsible manufacturing, and it’s our goal to help ensure that all people who make Nike product are treated fairly and with respect. As the global economy fluctuated during the Covid-19 pandemic, we worked with our suppliers to ensure they complied with Nike’s Code of Conduct and Code Leadership standards along with local law and emerging guidance from government on the provision of wages, benefits and severance.
