

Response from Tate & Lyle Sugars on Cambodia plantation issues

14 July 2014

Business & Human Rights Resource Centre invited Tate & Lyle Sugars to respond to:

- “Questions to answer for Tate & Lyle in Cambodian land-grabbing action”, Clothilde Le Coz & Marta Kasztelan, Food Navigator Asia, 24 Jun 2014 <http://www.foodnavigator-asia.com/Markets/Questions-to-answer-for-Tate-Lyle-in-Cambodian-land-grabbing-action>
- “Evictees Reject Recent Offer From UK Sugar Firm”, Kuch Naren & Zsombor Peter, Cambodia Daily, 10 Jun 2014 <http://www.cambodiadaily.com/news/evictees-reject-latest-settlement-offer-from-uk-sugar-firm-60869/>

Tate & Lyle Sugars responded with the following:

“It has been agreed by all parties that these discussions should remain confidential, and it would therefore be inappropriate for us to say anything further at this time.”
